Implications for the Cotton Sector

Climate change will affect every element of supply chains, and it will be impossible for brands, investors or other actors to avoid climate risk exposure

Take aways from the keynote

1

No growing region will be unaffected

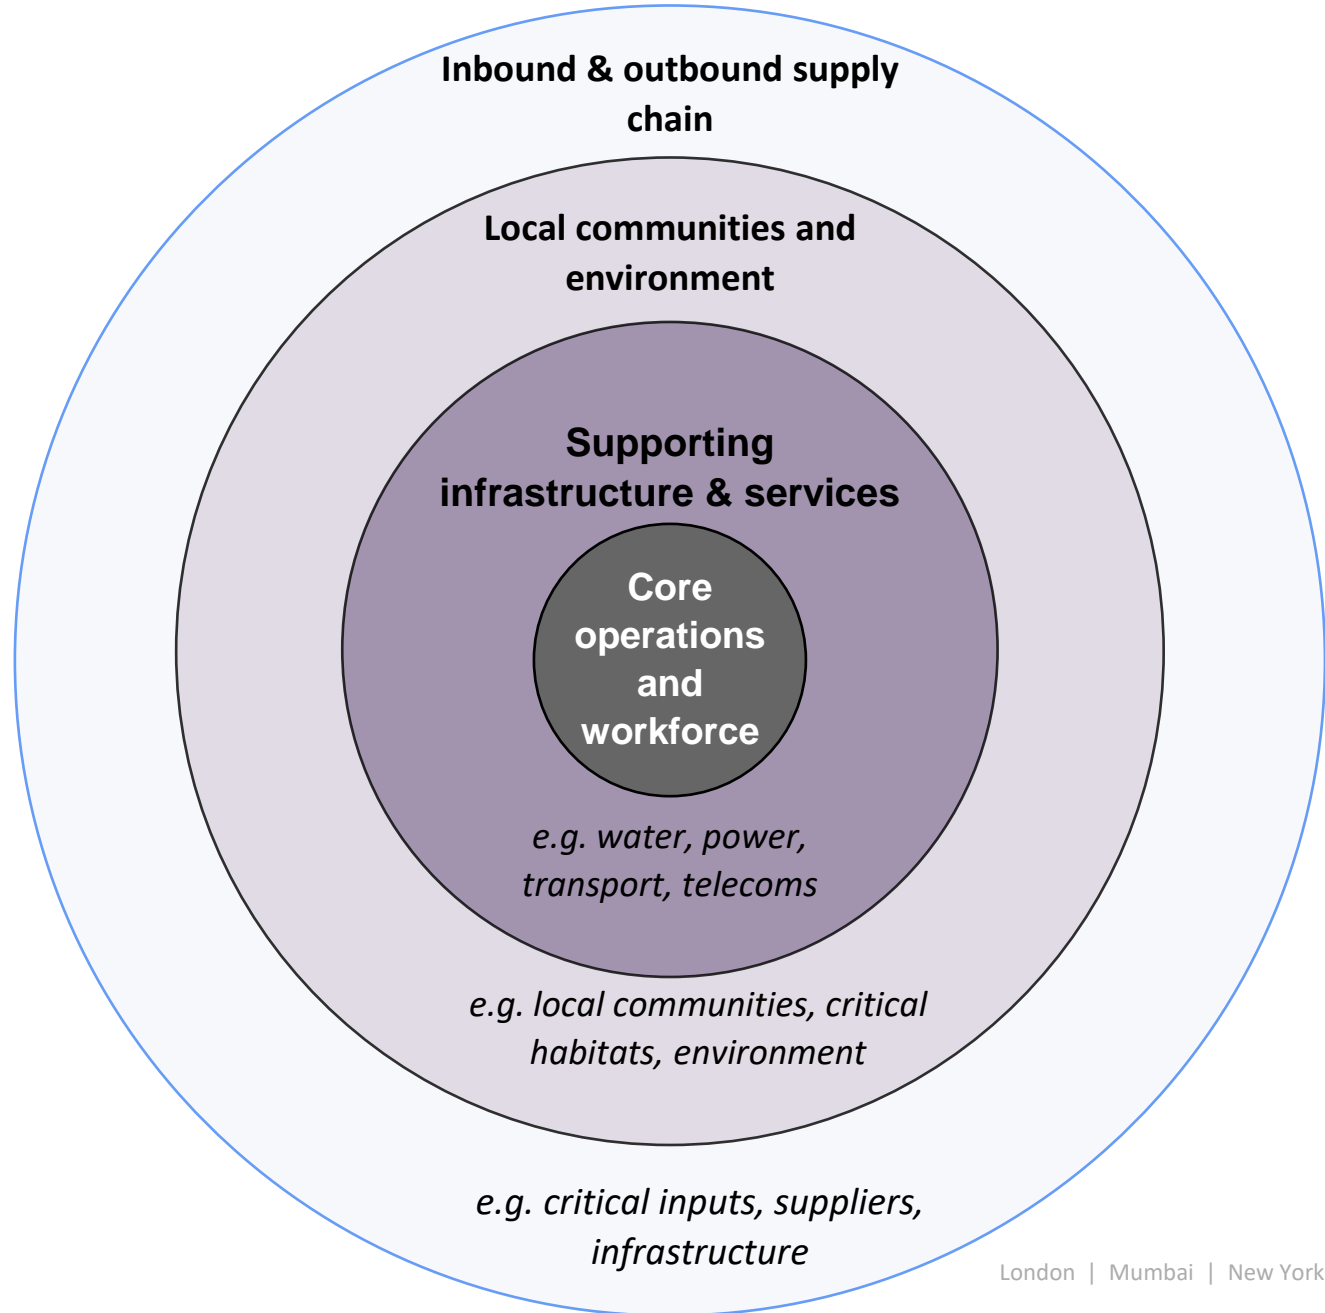

Impacts will affect every element of the cotton value chain

2

3

Urgent coordinated and interlinked action on adaptation is needed with climate justice and equity at the core to build sector's resilience

Thinking Systemically About Climate Risk

Guiding Question for Discussion

Where might the “unlocks” exist to allow your organisation to co-create and implement effective climate adaptation and mitigation strategies befitting of the cotton sector’s needs.

- 1. Across your supply chain*
- 2. Cross sector level*
